

Mishank Chhajed, Product Designer

As a designer, I believe that I can leave a positive impact on the world by lending a helping hand and working my way around situations. I am always learning, discovering, and thinking outside the box, and I use this approach to solve any problems that come my way.

Extra

Spots Foundation

While in college, I founded a foundation to provide help to all animals in need on and around campus, including dogs, cats, bats, snakes, and more. I created a comprehensive structure for the foundation, including teams dedicated to on-the-ground care, graphics, fundraising, events, and management. We took care of animals in need and hosted events and sold merchandise to raise funds to support our work. We also created a community for animal lovers on campus, so that students and faculty could help us identify animals in need and connect with our experts.
